SELF-SUPPORTING WOMEN FORMALLY ORGANIZE.

Mrs. Harriet Stanton Blatch of New York, one of the foremost leaders of her sex in the United States, and who has been recently elected president of the Equality League of Self-Supporting Women, has very pronounced views on the subject of the franchise for women and sees in the not distant future an organization of 5,500,000 of these women, banded together for the purpose of attaining their full rights in all things. She is a daughter of the late Elizabeth Cady Stanton and as such inherits the stamina and fixity of purpose which for years gave such distinction to the co-worker of Susan B. Anthony. Every member of the league must be self-supporting and great enthusiasm is manifested by those already working in the charmed circle, all of whom believe that every woman should be wholly independent of man as an adjunct to her support.

TRIAL MARRIAGE WIFE ATTACKS PRESIDENT'S VIEWS.

Lydia Kingsmill Commander of New York, the wife, by civil contract, of the Rev. Herbert N. Casson, editor, reformer and free thinker, seeks to prove that President Roosevelt's race suicide argument is the direct result of American economical conditions, which prevent the wage-earner from supporting a large family. She has written a book on the subject and claims that "Because of our strenuous rush for wealth—our higher standard of living—our fierce competition for success—the child has become an economic burden and a hinderance." For eight years she has lived with her "contract" husband on the theory promulgated by Mrs. Elsie Clews Parsons in her recently much criticized book, and as yet has displayed no anxiety to sever the bond. She has, how ever, had no children arrive to bless the union.
